

Hand Picked Hotels - Ettington Park

The Challenge

Set in 40 acres of parkland just 5 miles from the centre of Shakespeare country - Stratford-upon-Avon, Ettington Park is a spectacular Neo-Gothic mansion; a luxury 4* hotel with four red stars, rated within the top 200 hotels in the UK and Eire. Hand Picked Hotels group had already worked with Reflex at other prestige hotels and they wanted to ensure the comfort and safety of guests. Security provisions needed to be reviewed within key areas in a discreet and unobtrusive manner without any compromise to performance.

The Solution

As a trusted partner who have been consulted and tasked with providing services to Hand Picked Hotels previously, Reflex recommended IP network camera and access control systems that would not only be sympathetic to the hotel's architecture and ambiance, but still deliver on key technology performance. The latest Panasonic iPro network camera surveillance systems were fitted to provide the appropriate security, management information and health and safety benefits including comprehensive coverage of the hotel's new leisure club. The system operates over a dedicated network, and also uses Panasonic Mega Pixel cameras - which in outdoor areas provides very high resolution images of moving vehicles and the capture of vehicle number plates. Two Terabytes of digital recording and archiving capability have been built in, providing real time high resolution recording and play back. The combination of excellent live and recorded video information and enhanced managed access control provides a discreet but effective means of ensuring safety and security for guests, visitors and staff throughout all areas, day and night.
